Canonisation of John Henry Newman

Cardinal John Henry Newman will be the first English person who has lived since the 17th Century to be officially recognised as a Saint by the Roman Catholic Church. The Canonisation will take place on Sunday 13th October in Rome. Cardinal Newman founded the Birmingham Oratory in 1849 and, when he died at the age of 89, 15,000 people lined the city's streets for his funeral. Cardinal Newman is known for many great qualities, but is remembered particularly for the kindness and compassion of his ministry to the people of Birmingham. The Canonisation comes after a second miracle in his name was confirmed by Pope Francis earlier this year. Two authenticated miracles are required before sainthood and Newman has been credited with curing a man's spinal disease and is now said to have healed a woman's unstoppable bleeding. Cardinal Newman was Beatified (the process in which an individual is declared Blessed after a miracle is attributed to him or her) in 2010 by Pope Benedict before tens of thousands of people in his home city. To follow the events leading up to the Canonisation in October please visit the Oratories of England website at: www.newmanCanonisation.com
