Peoples Ponderings

This is my last weekend with you all, before I make my move to Burton upon Trent and Swadlincote. I wish to take this chance to thank you for your support during these short two years, particularly during my time with a bad back. My move to North Lincolnshire came as a surprise and even more so, my move away.

Reflecting on the two years, I can honestly say that it has been an enjoyable two years and I have learnt much about being a parish priest. I have met many great people and I know that both parishes have a great future ahead of them. I look forward to coming back on 5th November to see the completed work in Holy Souls and to come back in the future to see the work done at St Norbert's. You will be in very good hands with Canon Geoffrey and Fr Liam. Be assured of my prayers for you all as you embark on the next chapter of these two parishes and please also pray for me and the people in Burton and Swadlincote who will have to put up with me and my pleas for prayers for Leicester City. May God Bless you all and see you again soon.

Fr Neil
