

THE PARABLE OF THE WEEDS

(MATTHEW 13: 24-43) – LONGER FORM
(MATTHEW 13: 24-30) – SHORTER FORM

Today we are presented with three parables explaining how the kingdom of God interacts with the world.

The parable of the weeds demonstrates the good and evil that co-exist in the world. The mustard seed reminds us that our actions of mercy and love can have small beginnings but will grow into something much greater. The yeast expresses that the church is indeed very much part of a society that will contradict and challenge its teachings and activities. These parables also show that the kingdom of God is very much alive and active in the world. Jesus never said that being part of a Church was going to be easy.

The kingdom of God is brought about when we as individuals interact with the world in a spirit of respect, compassion, freedom and truth. Our term of reference is Jesus Christ. We confront evil in our world and are challenged by it. We sow seeds of love and kindness that will bear much fruit in our lives and the lives of others. And finally, we are inextricably linked to a world that can form us and educate us. But this world also needs to hear our message of Christ's love and compassion for all. ■

LEARN

'Jesus' invitation to enter his kingdom comes in the form of parables, a characteristic feature of his teaching. Through his parables he invites people to the feast of the kingdom, but he also asks for a radical choice: to gain the kingdom, one must give everything. Words are not enough, deeds are required. The parables are like mirrors for man: will he be hard soil or good earth for the word?' (Catechism of the Catholic Church, 546)

SAY

'Memories of our lives, of our works and our deeds will continue in others.'
(Rosa Parks)

DO

Think of something you can do for your parish this week. A visit to someone who's sick or living on their own is always a good start or maybe a phone call to your parish priest to see if any volunteers are needed for a future project.

REFLECT

Apple iPhones and computers have become the landmark and standard tools for the average internet user. There are other brand names of course but Apple seems to have led the industry with their expertise and brilliant innovative technologies. When Steve Jobs and Steve Wozniak invented the Apple Computer, they quickly realised that they hadn't the organisational capabilities to get the company off the ground. They had brilliant ideas but needed greater management expertise. They approached the President of Pepsi, John Sculley, asking him to leave his position and come join them. Sculley declined the invitation but Jobs and Wozniak were persistent. They went back to him again and again. Eventually Steve Jobs said to him, 'Do you want to spend the rest of your life selling sugared water, or do you want a chance to change the world?' Indeed, Jobs and Sculley went on to change the world.

This is the very task being presented by Jesus through three parables today. How are we going to change the world? When you think about it, it's quite a daunting task. We spend a lot of our days working to earn money, to support our family, to buy nice things, to pay the bills. But what do we actually do for the Church? Are we changing the world in the way we confront evil and injustice? Are we planting seeds of compassion and love through our actions and conversations? What is our response when society challenges a belief or teaching that we hold dear? When bringing about the kingdom of God on earth, we change the world. Like the mustard seed, it happens one small step at a time. ■

FIRST READING Wisdom 12:13, 16-19

A reading from the book of Wisdom.
There is no god, other than you, who cares
for everything,
to whom you might have to prove that you never judged unjustly.
Your justice has its source in strength, your sovereignty over all makes you lenient to all.
You show your strength when your sovereign power is questioned
and you expose the insolence of those who know it;
but, disposing of such strength, you are mild
in judgement,
you govern us with great lenience, for you have only to will, and your power is there.
By acting thus you have taught a lesson to your people how the virtuous man must be kindly to his fellow men,
and you have given your sons the good hope that after sin you will grant repentance.
The word of the Lord.
Thanks be to God.

PSALM Psalm 85(86):5-6,9-10,15-16

Response:
O Lord, you are good and forgiving.

- O Lord, you are good and forgiving,
full of love to all who call.
Give heed, O Lord, to my prayer and attend to the sound of my voice. (R.)
- All the nations shall come to adore you and glorify your name, O Lord:
for you are great and do marvellous deeds,
you who alone are God. (R.)
- But you, God of mercy and compassion, slow to anger, O Lord, abounding in love and truth,
turn and take pity on me. (R.)

SECOND READING Romans 8:26-27

A reading from the letter of St Paul to the Romans.

The Spirit comes to help us in our weakness.
For when we cannot choose words in order to pray properly, the Spirit himself expresses our plea in a way that could never be put into words, and God who knows everything in our hearts knows perfectly well what he means, and that the pleas of the saints expressed by the Spirit are according to the mind of God.

The word of the Lord.
Thanks be to God.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

Alleluia, alleluia! May the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ enlighten the eyes of our mind, so that we can see what hope his call holds for us.
Alleluia!

GOSPEL Matthew 13:24-43

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Matthew.

Jesus put a parable before the crowds: 'The kingdom of heaven may be compared to a man who sowed good seed in his field.
While everybody was asleep his enemy came, sowed darnel all among the wheat, and made off. When the new wheat sprouted and ripened, the darnel appeared as well.
The owner's servants went to him and said,
"Sir, was it not good seed that you sowed in your field? If so, where does the darnel come from?" "Some enemy has done this" he answered. And the servants said, "Do you want us to go and weed it out?" But he said, "No, because when you weed out the darnel you might pull up the wheat with it. Let them both grow till the harvest; and at harvest time I shall say to the reapers: First collect the darnel and tie it in bundles to be burnt, then gather the wheat into my barn."'

He put another parable before them: 'The kingdom of heaven is like a mustard seed which a man took and sowed in his field. It is the smallest of all the seeds, but when it has grown it is the biggest shrub of all and becomes a tree so that the birds of the air come and shelter in its branches.'

He told them another parable: 'The kingdom of heaven is like the yeast a woman took and mixed in with three measures of flour till it was leavened all through.'

In all this Jesus spoke to the crowds in parables; indeed, he would never speak to them except in parables. This was to fulfil the prophecy:

I will speak to you in parables and expound things hidden since the foundation of the world.

Then, leaving the crowds, he went to the house; and his disciples came to him and said, 'Explain the parable about the darnel in the field to us.' He said in reply, 'The sower of the good seed is the Son of Man. The field is the world; the good seed is the subjects of the kingdom; the darnel, the subjects of the evil one; the enemy who sowed them, the devil; the harvest is the end of the world; the reapers are the angels. Well then, just as the darnel is gathered up and burnt in the fire, so it will be at the end of time. The Son of Man will send his angels and they will gather out of his kingdom all things that provoke offences and all who do evil, and throw them into the blazing furnace, where there will be weeping and grinding of teeth. Then the virtuous will shine like the sun in the kingdom of their Father. Listen, anyone who has ears!'

The Gospel of the Lord.
Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ.

PROFESSION OF FAITH

I believe in God,
the Father almighty, Creator of heaven and earth,
and in Jesus Christ, his only Son, our Lord, (all bow during the next two lines)

who was conceived by the Holy Spirit, born of the Virgin Mary, suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, died and was buried;
he descended into hell;
on the third day he rose again from the dead;
he ascended into heaven,
and is seated at the right hand of God the Father almighty;
from there he will come to judge the living and the dead.

I believe in the Holy Spirit,
the holy catholic Church,
the communion of saints,
the forgiveness of sins,
the resurrection of the body,
and life everlasting.
Amen.

PRAYER OVER THE OFFERINGS

O God, who in the one perfect sacrifice brought to completion varied offerings of the law,
accept, we pray, this sacrifice from your faithful servants
and make it holy, as you blessed the gifts of Abel,
so that what each has offered to the honour of your majesty
may benefit the salvation of all.
Through Christ our Lord.
Amen.

COMMUNION ANTIPHON

The Lord, the gracious, the merciful, has made a memorial of his wonders;
he gives food to those who fear him.

PRAYER AFTER COMMUNION

Graciously be present to your people, we pray, O Lord,
and lead those you have imbued with heavenly mysteries
to pass from former ways to newness of life.
Through Christ our Lord.
Amen.
