

Readings for Fourth Sunday of Easter

First Reading

Filled with the Holy Spirit, Peter said: Rulers of the people, and elders! If you are questioning us today about an act of kindness to a cripple, and asking us how he was healed, then I am glad to tell you all, and would indeed be glad to tell the whole people of Israel, that it was by the name of Jesus Christ the Nazarene, the one you crucified, whom God raised from the dead, by this name and by no other that this man is able to stand up perfectly healthy, here in your presence, today. This is the stone rejected by you the builders, but which has proved to be the keystone. For of all the names in the world given to men, this is the only one by which we can be saved.

The Word of the Lord.

Ps: 117:1.8-9.21-23.26.28-29

[R]: The stone which the builders rejected has become the corner stone.

Second Reading

1 John 3:1-2

Think of the love that the Father has lavished on us, by letting us be called God's children; and that is what we are. Because the world refused to acknowledge him, therefore it does not acknowledge us. My dear people, we are already the children of God but what we are to be in the future has not yet been revealed; all we know is, that when it is revealed we shall be like him because we shall see him as he really is.

The Word of the Lord.

Gospel Acclamation: Alleluia, alleluia! I am the good shepherd, says the Lord; I know my own sheep and my own know me. Alleluia!

Gospel Reading

John 10:11-18

Jesus said: 'I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd is one who lays down his life for his sheep. The hired man, since he is not the shepherd and the sheep do not belong to him, abandons the sheep and runs away as soon as he sees a wolf coming, and then the wolf attacks and scatters the sheep; this is because he is only a hired man and has no concern for the sheep. I am the good shepherd; I know my own and my own know me, just as the Father knows me and I know the Father; and I lay down my life for my sheep. And there are other sheep I have that are not of this fold, and these I have to lead as well. They too will listen to my voice, and there will be only one flock, and one shepherd. The Father loves me, because I lay down my life in order to take it up again. No one takes it from me; I lay it down of my own free will, and as it is in my power to lay it down, so it is in my power to take it up again; and this is the command I have been given by my Father.'

The Gospel of the Lord.

Acts 4:8-12

Day of Prayer for Vocations

The fourth Sunday of Easter is known as 'Good Shepherd Sunday' and is kept throughout the Catholic Church as a day of prayer for vocations, especially vocations to the priesthood and religious life.

The first thing to bear in mind is that all of us are 'called'; we are called by God who is love, to a life of loving service of God and of others. That calling (or vocation) is unique for all of us, for the majority of people it finds its fullest expression in marriage and family life, but some are called to service in ordained ministry or religious life.

Shortly after Christmas I gave a homily in which I spoke about my own experience of 'vocation' and this weekend I have asked Deacon Bernard to describe his experience to us. Although only those who have been ordained may give homilies at Mass, I am well aware that there are others who will also have their own 'vocation stories' which would be inspiring and uplifting to others and it would be good to find a way of being able to share them more widely. Any ideas?

On my travels last week I spent a few days at my former seminary and I am pleased to report that there is a positive mood among the staff and students, and signs of a gradual increase in the numbers entering formation. In our Diocese we have 11 seminarians in formation, two of whom will be ordained priest this summer. On Monday I am involved in interviewing another two applicants, please remember them and all involved in the discernment and formation process in your prayers on that day.

Finally, the annual collection for the Clergy Formation Fund (normally taken today) will be taken up next weekend, so that everyone has the opportunity to come prepared!
