

Readings for the 20th Sunday

First Reading

Isaiah 56:1.6-7

Thus says the Lord: Have a care for justice, act with integrity, for soon my salvation will come and my integrity be manifest. Foreigners who have attached themselves to the Lord to serve him and to love his name and be his servants - all who observe the Sabbath, not profaning it, and cling to my covenant - these I will bring to my holy mountain. I will make them joyful in my house of prayer. Their holocausts and their sacrifices will be accepted on my altar, for my house will be called a house of prayer for all the peoples. The Word of the Lord.

Ps: 66:2-3.5-6.8

[R]: Let the peoples praise you, O God; let all the peoples praise you.

Second Reading

Romans 11:13-15.29-32

Let me tell you pagans this: I have been sent to the pagans as their apostle, and I am proud of being sent, but the purpose of it is to make my own people envious of you, and in this way save some of them. Since their rejection meant the reconciliation of the world, do you know what their admission will mean? Nothing less than a resurrection from the dead! God never takes back his gifts or revokes his choice. Just as you changed from being disobedient to God, and now enjoy mercy because of their disobedience, so those who are disobedient now - and only because of the mercy shown to you - will also enjoy mercy eventually. God has imprisoned all men in their own disobedience only to show mercy to all mankind. The Word of the Lord.

Gospel Acclamation:

Alleluia, alleluia! The sheep that belong to me listen to my voice, says the Lord. I know them and they follow me. Alleluia!

Gospel Reading

Matthew 15:21-28

Jesus left that place and withdrew to the region of Tyre and Sidon. Then out came a Canaanite woman from that district and started shouting, 'Sir, Son of David, take pity on me. My daughter is tormented by a devil.' But he answered her not a word. And his disciples went and pleaded with him. 'Give her what she wants,' they said 'because she is shouting after us.' He said in reply, 'I was sent only to the lost sheep of the House of Israel'. But the woman had come up and was kneeling at his feet. 'Lord,' she said 'help me.' He replied, 'It is not fair to take the children's food and throw it to the house-dogs'. She retorted, 'Ah yes, sir; but even house-dogs can eat the scraps that fall from their master's table'. Then Jesus answered her, 'Woman, you have great faith. Let your wish be granted.' And from that moment her daughter was well again. The Gospel of the Lord.

This Week

Our Parish and the First World War

'The first Mass according to the Catholic Rite to be held in Scunthorpe since the Reformation is believed to have taken place on All Souls Day, 2nd November 1892. Fr Michael Kirby, Parish Priest of Brigg, offered up the Holy Sacrifice in a house on Mary Street owned by a Mr E Field of Winteringham whose family were recent converts to the faith. This Mass was in effect the beginning of the modern Catholic Mission in the town of Scunthorpe (and the date is probably the reason for the somewhat unusual dedication of our church).' Fr Eddy recently had a phone call from someone who introduced himself as a great grandson of Mr Elias William Field. Elias William Field served in the Lincolnshire Yeomanry and died on 22nd December 1915 having been wounded when the ship, on which he was travelling to Egypt, was shot by a German submarine. He is buried in a military cemetery in Algeria and his name is to be found on the war memorial at Winteringham. As over the coming four years we remember the events of the First World War it would be good to remember as a parish those early founders, parishioners and benefactors of our parish who lost their lives at that time. If you have any family memories that you wish to share they will be gratefully received.

Iraq

Please note the words of Cardinal Vincent Nichols on the situation in Iraq: "It is imperative that the international community ensure the physical protection of all communities in Iraq, their human rights including the right to religious freedom. I urge Her Majesty's Government to lead the efforts in the face of such a human calamity in order to help restore these shattered communities, provide them with urgent humanitarian aid and work with others to ensure their long term security in the land of their birth. I encourage our own Catholic community to continue to give generously to our agencies working to support the people of Iraq. Above all I invite all people of faith to turn to God in prayer this weekend and seek for our world the change of heart and the gift of grace that alone can bring us peace."
